Accreditation of Secondary Schools

1. The State Board of Education, by law, prescribes the standards for accreditation of high schools and accredits such high schools as maintain those standards.

2. Schools are classified for accrediting as: Fully accredited, accredited with advice, accredited with warning, accredited on probation, accredited on final or terminal probation, and dropped, or non-accredited.

3. Schools are accredited for a definite number of years or grades of teaching. A high school which is accredited for four years is considered as accredited to teach grades nine through twelve.

4. Terms are defined as follows:

   A. Advice: Advice is given as first notice to a school that it is deficient in meeting any one standard.

   B. Warning: Warning is given as notice of a failure on the part of the school district authorities to correct a deficiency on which it has been advised, or in the case of the violation of two or more standards, without advice.

   C. Probation: Schools violating two or more standards a second year, or a single standard for a third year, are placed on a probationary status, or may be dropped.

   D. Final or Terminal Probation: Schools granted accrediting for the last time, for such reasons as may be considered proper, are given final accreditation.

5. Apportionment of State and County Funds.
Apportionment of State and County Funds shall be made only to accredited high schools according to statute.

6. Acceptance of Units of Credit.
Units of credit earned in high schools that are approved, approved with warning, or on the probationary list will be accepted toward graduation in the high school in which they are earned or in any other high school in the State.
A limited number of high school units, not to exceed one in any one year, can be earned through the State Correspondence School and will be accepted toward graduation in any high school in the state in which the student is enrolled. Taking correspondence work while attending an average high school should not become a regular practice. It is assumed that correspondence work is for the homebound, incapacitated children, the isolated child or for the child who needs subjects not offered in his high school.
Units earned during any year in non-accredited high schools, will not be accepted towards graduation in any high school in the state.
